AFRAID TO DEAL IN IT.

Oil Reaches a Point Where There are No Sales.

Although Brokers are Predicting That the Price Will Go Up to $3. They Fear to Invest.

PITTSBURG, Pa, April 17—Oil has now reached that point where speculators are afraid to deal in it and as a result there was not a sale on the Pittsburg exchange during the first half hour this morning, while the sales on the Oil City exchange during the same period aggregated only 7 000 barrels

The Standard again put up its price 25 cents, to $2 50 and May options were offered here at the opening for $2 70. Cash oil was offered at $2 76 There were no buyers and the price gradually dropped to 69 and then to 67 and at 10 30 $2 65 was bid While many brokers are predicting $3 oil this week few of them have sufficient faith in their own prophecy to invest

The Standard Oil company, through its purchasing agents, has secured possession of several more slices of oil producing territory. The Southwest Pennsylvania Oil company, a Standard concern, has bought the remaining three fourths interest in the Mannington and Fairview, W. Va, territory, containing about 8 000 acres and 300 wells, with a production of 6,000 barrels per day. The Standard has also purchased a three fifths interest in the Carter Oil company, of Statersville, W. Va, at a price in the neighborhood of $200,000. The Carter company owned about 100 wells, with a daily production of 1,000 barrels.

David Kirk, one of the best posted men in the oil business, in discussing the present boom in oil, said.

'Petroleum will be the means of bringing the country out of the period of depression that has prevailed for the past two years That was the case in 1873, when our finances were at a low ebb. Oil made the first advance and as it went up in price the business of the country improved. The same was true in 1884 The most important effect on the increased price on the finances of the country will be the increase in the amount of gold brought into the country in payment for the petroleum we export Oil is paid for in yellow gold and is one of our most important exports We ship something like 20,000,000 barrels annually and with the price hanging about fifty cents the aggregate reciept from this source amount to about $10 000 000. Now with oil at the present prices we would receive something like $15,000,000 for our exports This would be a clear gain of $35,000,000 a year which would go far toward offsetting the heavy exports on gold during the past two years. But that is not the only influence at work. There are internal improvements that are already here and will continue to grow all the year. Our manufacturers are already feeling the boom. I think the oil interests will use considerably more than twice as much iron of all kinds this year as they did last .This will give employment to hosts of men who will become good buyers and so create a better market for all kinds of merchandise."

The market was much quieter up until noon today than it was yesterday and the range of fluctuation was narrow. The highest point reached was $2 70 and at 12 o'clock May option stood at $2 62 and cash oil at $2 58½ bid. The feature of the market this morning was the announcement that the Atlantic Refining Oil company had raised the price of the refined article another cent per gallon This may have a bullish effect upon the market this afternoon, as it was not known until nearly 12 o'clock The total advance in the price of refined oil in the past two weeks is four cents per gallon, or $2 per barrel. The sales of oil on the Pittsburg exchange this forenoon were about 2,000 barrels.

GLASGOW, April 17—The Scotch Oil company, at a meeting here today, raised the price of petroleum two pence per gallon, making an advance of three pence in one week.

ANTWERP, April 17—Petrolium is quoted at thirty-four francs.

BREMEN, April 17—Petroleum at thirty-four marks.

HAMBURG, April 17—Petroleum firm at thirteen marks.

PORTLAND, Ind., April 17—The advance in oil is causing a wonderful activity in the Indiana field, and a well known producer estimated today that between 400 and 500 new wells have already been started in Blackford, Adams, Randolph, Wells and Jay counties. Drillers and tool dressers are all engaged, and it is almost impossible to get teams to haul rigs in the field. Many wells are already drilling, and the stimulated activity is sure to be the cause of some "gushers" coming in It is not thought that the advance is an effort to crush out any, but is brought about by the demand being greater than the supply.

FLORENCE, Col, April 17—The flurry in oil throughout Pennsylvania and Ohio has not affected the price of oil in the Florence district as yet. Oil men here look upon the sudden and rapid rise in the price of crude oil with suspicion. They think it may be some new dodge of the Standard.

Thomas Robinson, superintendent of the United Oil company, thinks if the present price of oil continues in the east it must affect prices here sooner or later and consequently help the Colorado product

Isaac Canfield, general manager of the Triumph Oil company, says: "The rise in oil east will not affect us. It would not if the price should go up to $10 per barrel The Standard has raised the price of oil everywhere except where it comes into competition with the Florence Oil and Refining company which is an independent producer and refiner."

BOSTON, April 17—The Standard today publishes an interview with Foster D Edwards, agent of the Commercial Refining company, in this city, and one of the leading representatives of the oil interest. Concerning the rise in the price of oil, Mr. Edwards said in part. "The immediate cause of the advance is that the supply is not equal to the demand, but the scarcity was brought about by the attempt of the trust to crush its competitors out of existence. The reason the Standard Oil company has been unable to manipulate the oil industry is because it unites in its business all three branches—production, refining and distributing—whereas these several branches were not combined in interest among the independent dealers. My idea at first was that the Standard people were afraid that if they continued to keep the prices down the producers, refiners and distributors would unite for the protection of each other, and I don't know but I am right"

OIL GOES DOWN.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 17—Oil broke from $2 62 to $2 10 at 2 30 o'clock this afternoon and closed at $2 17. Great excitement prevailed on the exchange.

ABANDONED THE LAW.

The Haytian Government Rectifies an Injury.

Was Discriminating Against Americans. But Secretary Gresham Makes a Vigorous and Effectual Protest.

WASHINGTON, April 17—The state department has checked in its inception an attempt made by the Haytian government to impose a discriminating tax upon American citizens and other foreigners residing in Hayti The proposition was under consideration in the country as long ago as August, 1893, and a bill had been framed by the government to that effect, when the matter was reported to Secretary Gresham by Mr. Durham, then United States minister. Secretary Gresham immediately entered a most vigorous protest, pointing out that the proposed law would be in direct conflict with the treaty, which guaranteed that Americans should not be subjected to any tax not imposed upon Haytians Thereupon, according to the American minister's statement, the government abandoned its contemplated action.

THE TERMS OF PEACE

As Agreed Upon Between Japan and China.

The Indemnity to be Paid to Japan is Equivalent to $450,000,000 in Gold Coin.

WASHINGTON April 17—The Chinese imperial edict sent by the Associated Press last night from Tsin is accepted among officials and diplomats here as setting at rest the conflicting reports as to final terms of peace and as showing that the first reports via London were inaccurate in their details.

The indemnity of 200,000,000 teals is a compromise. Japan first demanded 300,000 000 taels, but on the solicitation of Prince Li threw off 100,000,000 At the Chinese legation it is stated that the teal varies in value, but that the present value of the customs on treasury tael, which is undoubtedly the one in which payment will be made, is $1 50 in Mexican silver, or about seventy-five cents in gold This would make indemnity equivalent to $300,000,000 Mexican money, or $150 000,000 in gold. The Mexican trade dollar is the current coin of China and the basis of calculation, so that the belief is very strong, though information on the subject is lacking, that the payment will be in silver.

The edict that Japan is to occupy the Liao Tung peninsula up to the fortieth degree of latitude settles the important point that she is to have the great fortress of Port Arthur and the immediately surrounding territory, as foreshadowed in these dispatches. The Liao Tung peninsula is a small point of land jutting southward into the gulf of Pechili, with Port Arthur at its extreme point. The fortieth degree of latitude cuts across the mainland where the little peninsula broadens into the mainland of Manchuria This lower peninsula has the shape of a sword and is known as "regret's sword." The edict does not state whether Japan gets this acquisition permanently or until the indemnity is paid. She has contended on having it permanently, as it would give Japan command of the gulf of Pechili leading to Japan. If the occupation is temporary it will give Japan a military command of China as long the occupation lasts The duration of the occupancy is most important and on this point undoubtedly will depent any action European powers may take. The permanent occupation of the island of Formosa has been settled for some time. This opens Pekin and some new ports of commerce by the introduction of modern methods into the interior of China Japan has gained the privilege of establishing her cotton and other factories in China but it remains to be seen whether Japanese capital will invest in these enterprises, or the Chinese will buy these modern fabrics.

The edict makes a significant omission as to the reported Japanese China alliance, offensive and defensive which, if consummated, would have given "the Orient to the Orientals" The Japanese and Chinese officials in Washington have never credited the report of the alliance.

LATER

Japan's occupation of Port Arthur is temporary, thus securing China's integrity on the mainland of Asia after a term of years and avoiding the possibility of European intervention.

A TRAMP'S DEED.

Demanded Food of Some Unprotected Children,

And Because They Refuse Him, He Fires the Barn, Entailing a Loss of Over $3,500.

DECATUR, Ind, April 17—Yesterday morning Jacob Foust and wife, residing in French township, about eight miles east of this place, came to this city, leaving three small children at home Shortly after their departure a tramp appeared at the house, demanding something to eat, which was refused by the frightened children, who slammed and locked the door. The children discovered the summer kitchen, adjoining the house, on fire, and rushed out and extinguished the flames. As soon as the flames were extinguished the tramp appeared again and demanded food, saying he would "kill all of them if they did not give him something to eat, or if they ever told of him being there" Again he was locked out, and soon the large barn was discovered on fire. Afraid of their lives, the three small children stood in the house and saw the flames destroy the barn, containing thirty tons of hay, wheat, oats and twelve head of Jersey cattle, entailing a loss of $3,500, with no insurance. The flames soon attracted neighbors, who are now scouring the country for the incendiary. If caught a lynching bee will be the result. According to the description given by the children the tramp is about sixty years old and gray haired.

NOT ELIGIBLE AS MINISTER.

Ex-Senator Ransom May Not be Envoy to Mexico.

WASHINGTON, April 17—According to some constitutional experts, ex-Senator Ransom is not minister to Mexico. They say the mission is vacant because the constitution has been violated. Article 1, section 6, clause 2, is the portion referred to, which reads:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time"

The salary of the minister to Mexico was increased from $12 000 to $17,500 by a provision in the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill passed in the second section of the fifty first congress Mr Ransom was present in the senate at the time the bill was agreed to and made no objection Hence it is claimed he is not eligible

PERRY, THE ROBBER.

He Talks Concerning His Hidden Treasure.

Won't Divulge the Hiding Place Nor the Amount—Insists Upon a Requisition.

NEW YORK April 17—Perry, the train robber, had recovered some of his old time audacity when he awoke in the county jail in Jersey City today "I shall not go back to Watteswan and its horrors until I am compelled to," he said to a reporter "When I go there it will be through extradition and by no other process I am being treated humanely now and I like it."

Perry was asked concerning his treasure, said to be secreted in the vicinity of Little Falls. He admitted that he had a sum of money hidden away, but he refused to tell where or how much it amounted to

"I will say this much" said Perry, "an express company has stated that all that was taken by me was $5 0,0. Now it amounted to a great deal more, but how much I won't say"

Perry gave the impression that the treasure was buried further west than Little Falls. Perry will be held in the New Jersey prison until a requisition can be procured by the Mattewan authorities The chief of police and mayor of Weehawken called at the jail today and told Warden Mitchell not to surrender Perry until the $2 250 reward had been paid over to Detective Edward J. Clifford and Policeman McAleese, who captured the outlaw.

Perry had a stormy interview with Keeper Coyle last night. When he saw the keeper he shouted "Say, Coyle, I want to tell you that if I'm put in the isolated ward and treated as I have been hitherto there'll be trouble. I want to give you and the others fair warning I shall submit no longer If it comes to the worst some one will suffer."

RESUMED WORK.

Claus Spreckles' Sugar Refinery Again in Operation.

The Overstocked Condition of the Sugar Market Has Disappeared and a Healthy Demand Has Taken Its Place.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa, April 17—Spreckel's sugar refinery which had been closed for about two weeks by order of the sugar trust, by which it is controlled, has started to run again. The resumption of work is looked upon as a steady one. The plant is running on nearly full time, but with a reduced force. The other refinery, at Williamsburg, N. Y, which was closed by the trust at the same time the Spreckels plant was shut down, has also resumed work. The demand for refined sugars, which was very dull when the two refineries were closed, has been brighter for the last two or three days, and though the market is still overstocked, it is thought probable that a healthy condition will soon be restored The McCahan refinery, which is not controlled by the trust, is running nearly full time

MUST EXPLAIN.

Guatemala Must Show Cause for Abusing Americans.

Uncle Sam is Indignant at the Treatment Accorded His Boys and Demands Amends.

WASHINGTON, April 17—There was much complaint during the past year of the abuse of American citizens in Guatemala. In some cases, like that of Henry J. Stibbs, officers of American vessels were seized in Guatemalan ports and forced into the military service. In others, American workmen peacefully engaged in their labors, were imprisoned and maltreated and others still were subjected to the indignity of lashing upon the bare backs The department of state has called for explanations from the Guatemalan government and directed investigations through our consular officers upon which to base demands for indemnity.

This morning, back of Jackson's saloon, in a hallway, Officer Foulks found a badly intoxicated man lying on the floor and clutching a crumpled up piece of paper. The fellow was pulled out onto the sidewalk and the paper was found to be a check on the bank at Churubusco for $2 50 signed by E E Gardy, and made payable to one Fred Lorenze The man said this was his name and told the officer that his home was in Columbia City, where he worked as a tailor.

Officer Foulks was suspicious that the check was not good, but let the man go It is thought that Lorenze is the man whom Officer Aiken shot at on Monday night The fellow has been here since last Saturday on a big drunk and unless something is done with him he is liable to come to harm On Monday night Lorenze was going up and down Calhoun street stopping people and asking for money The man has some throat trouble and can scarcely speak above a whisper.

SERIOUS CHARGES

Humane Agent Schlaudrof is home from Sheldon, Ind, where he went to see a Mrs Cumings, who wrote him concerning her eleven-months-old child, which she claimed was being starved to death by a woman living at Ferguson station It appears that Mrs Cumings is a working woman and is compelled to leave her child with whoever she can hire to care for the infant The Humane officer found the little one in a deplorable plight. The woman who was keeping it had been feeding it on crackers and black coffee and the food did not seem to agree with the child. The Humane officer brought the child to this city and took it to the Orphans' home, where it now is.

BOYS LET GO

The seven boys who were arrested west of the city the other night for associating with a woman of questionable character were all on trial before the mayor this morning The evidence went to show that there were some mitigating circumstances in the case and upon the recommendation of Deputy Prosecutor Ryan, Mayor Oakley dismissed the case against all the boys, who are sons of respectable west side residents. The little chaps were in jail and were bailed out last evening.

A tramp arrested at the station house the other day had a diary of fifty pages, in which was recorded a very interesting love affair extending over the period of a year. The tramp was a young country boy who had evidently run away from home He had been in love "head over heels" but whether this had anything to do with his present forlorn condition is not known

Charles Strack, the well known farmer, whose son-in-law, Jesse McLaren, keeps a saloon south of this city, stated to a SENTINEL reporter this morning that at the time of the recent row at the saloon he was at home on the farm and knew nothing of the affair. In reference to the remonstrance which will be presented next week to the county commissioners by some of the residents of Maumee township, one of the residents of that township writes THE SENTINEL as follows: 'The remonstrance is not simply against the building of a school house. Mr. R B Shirley, the present trustee, who goes out of office in less than ninety days, has petitioned the board of commissioners for permission to issue certificates of indebtedness, or bond the township, to pay off a large debt already created by him (which the remonstrants believe to have been incurred unwisely and in violation of law), and, for the purpose of rebuilding a brick school house which he, himself, built some fourteen years ago and now condemns as unsafe One of the questions which the remonstrants propose to bring before the board is the legality of Mr. Shirley's creating township indebtedness without proper authority being first procured and without the taxpayers having an opportunity of knowing how and where the money was to be expended. The people of Maumee recognize the needs of their township in the matter of more and better school houses and are willing to pay for them as fast as they can be afforded, but they are also fully aware of their rights in the matter and of the necessity for the fair and economical use of the money taxed from them for school purposes. The petition recently circulated in the vicinity of Woodburn, asking that the railroad change the name of that station to Shirley, seems to have been abandoned or to have failed, as the railroad people have announced that they will not change the name Woodburn it has been for thirty years and Woodburn it is to remain"

FRANCHISE EXPIRES.

The New Telephone Company Says it is Still Valid.

A Hitch Between the Harrison People and the Fort Wayne Capitalists—Construction Delayed.

The telephone situation in Fort Wayne has assumed the proportions of a genuine Chinese puzzle, and wise sires who are usually posted on all topics relating to local financial projects are in the dark when it comes to unraveling the solution

Yesterday the franchise granted six months ago by the common council to the Fort Wayne District Telegraph and Telephone company expired and whether it is now legally held is a question which can only be decided in the courts That the council will take any steps to hinder a new company from giving the people cheaper telephones is not likely, but the people would like to see the work begun and the long-promised lower rate of telephone tolls established

Curious as it may seem, the Central Union company is going right along with their work and putting in a magnificent system of improvements at the cost of $30,000, and further, they do not seem to care whether the Harrison people's franchise expires or not

It will be remembered that the telephone situation was reviewed at considerable length in the SENTINEL at the time of the consolidation of the interests of the Fort Wayne District Telephone and Telegraph company with that of the Harrison people. This strong organization proposed at once to pitch in and give the people a new system by May 1st or June at the latest That there is a "hitch", between the Fort Wayne men interested in the project and the representatives of the Harrison company is now quite evident. In fact, it is freely acknowledged by both sides that such is the case. While it is hoped that the new company will not be disrupted it is feared that such is the case temporarily.

A gentleman outside the company says the trouble originated over the project of raising the $85,000 stock, which was not as liberally subscribed as might have been supposed.

Within the past few weeks C. E. Higgins has made four trips to Lafayette to confer with the Harrison officials and stated last evening that the new system would be put in 'exclusively by home capital" and in a hurry when once started

I. N. Wood, of the Harrison interest, was interviewed by a SENTINEL representative this morning. In answer to the query as to whether the company would allow their franchise to lapse, he said.

'We still hold the franchise, for we have a system of telephones already established and twelve or fifteen 'phones in operation."

'Why do you not go ahead with the work of putting in a new system?' was next asked.

"Well, never fear," was the reply, 'we will give the people a new system and that shortly. The only trouble just now seems to be with the poles. We have only a few of such poles as we need and must get a new supply from the north. Our construction force was here last week ready to go to work but found us without necessary material to start on."

Mr. Wood declined to discuss the cause of the disagreement between the outside and local interests, but stoutly maintained that the people would have cheaper telephones and that they would be of the Harrison make, which he claims is the only instrument not an infringement upon the Bell telephone.

Citizens do not care who puts in a new telephone system in Fort Wayne, provided they give us good service and cheaper rates, and it is to be hoped the disagreements between the two interests of the new company will be soon amicably settled.

Whether the lapsing of their franchise will materially interfere remains yet to be seen.

FORT WAYNE BEATEN.

The Home Nine No Match for the Cleveland Boys.

Our Team, However, Makes a Good Impression—Their Opponents Members of the National League.

A very fair crowd witnessed the first game of ball at Lakeside park yesterday afternoon and, despite the fact that the Fort Wayne team was beaten by a score of 11 to 1, it is no argument that the home nine cannot play ball. The Cleveland team is a member of the National league and have seen two or three weeks professional practice already this season, while the home nine are just getting their hands hardened up, so to speak.

The weather was not very favorable for a game as the raw north wind seemed to put a damper on players and spectators

Several times Manager Jewell's men filled the bases but were cut off before they scored In the seventh inning Peek-Aboo Veach struck a two bagger and Croak followed with a base hit which placed Veach on third A drive in the ninth by White into McAleer's hands was not held by the visitor's fielder, letting White to second. Boland hit to Tebeau, who muffed, giving White an opportunity to save the local team from being shut out The score was.

WOMEN OF THE WEST.

Missionary Workers Meet in Convention in This City.

The Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the West, Representing Eight States.

This morning at 10 o'clock there convened at the Baptist Tabernacle an earnest and representative body of women, from eight states of the west, for the purpose of holding a two day's convention.

A gentleman outside the company says the trouble originated over the project of raising the $85,000 stock, which was not as liberally subscribed as might have been supposed.

Within the past few weeks C. E. Higgins has made four trips to Lafayette to confer with the Harrison officials and stated last evening that the new system would be put in 'exclusively by home capital" and in a hurry when once started

I. N. Wood, of the Harrison interest, was interviewed by a SENTINEL representative this morning. In answer to the query as to whether the company would allow their franchise to lapse, he said.

'We still hold the franchise, for we have a system of telephones already established and twelve or fifteen 'phones in operation."

'Why do you not go ahead with the work of putting in a new system?' was next asked.

"Well, never fear," was the reply, 'we will give the people a new system and that shortly. The only trouble just now seems to be with the poles. We have only a few of such poles as we need and must get a new supply from the north. Our construction force was here last week ready to go to work but found us without necessary material to start on."

Mr. Wood declined to discuss the cause of the disagreement between the outside and local interests, but stoutly maintained that the people would have cheaper telephones and that they would be of the Harrison make, which he claims is the only instrument not an infringement upon the Bell telephone.

Citizens do not care who puts in a new telephone system in Fort Wayne, provided they give us good service and cheaper rates, and it is to be hoped the disagreements between the two interests of the new company will be soon amicably settled.

Whether the lapsing of their franchise will materially interfere remains yet to be seen.

The closing half hour of the morning session was devotional service conducted by Dr. Caroline H. Davis, of Michigan. The feature of this service was the prayer of Aunt Lizzie Aikens, one of the notable women of the convention, which was an earnest petition for the presence and power of the holy spirit.

This afternoon missionary addresses were delivered by the two missionaries of Burma, Mrs. H. W Hancock and Miss L B Black

The soldier boys are assisted in their efforts by the ladies, who have been engaged the last few days in arranging the armory for the occasion. They have it handsomely decorated and when the fair opens tomorrow night they will give the patrons a pleasant surprise and present a program of amusement that will please all. The military companies are always ready to give their services on public occasions and they ought to be liberally patronized during the continuance of the fair The Rifles and True Blues will meet at the armory tomorrow night at 7 o'clock to participate in a parade

SIMPLICITY ITSELF

A Simple, Harmless Remedy

Yet it Cures the Worst Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr Jennison, who has made a life study of stomach trouble, says: All forms of indigestion really amount to the same thing, that is, failure to completely digest the food eaten; no matter whether the trouble is acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, belching of wind, nervous dyspepsia or loss of flesh and appetite; a person will not have any of them if the stomach can be induced by any natural, harmless way, to thoroughly digest what is eaten, and this can be done by a simple remedy which I have tested in hundreds of aggravated cases with complete success. The remedy is a combination of fruit and vegetable essences, pure aseptic pepsin and golden seal put up in the form of pleasant tasting tablets and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two of these tablets should be taken after meals and allowed to dissolve in the mouth and mingling with the food in the stomach, digests it completely before it has time to ferment, decay and sour.

On actual experiment one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest three thousand grains of meat, eggs and similar wholesome foods.

It is safe to say, if this wholesome remedy was better known, by people generally, it would be a national blessing, as we are a nation of dyspeptics, and nine-tenths of all diseases owe their origin to imperfect digestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret patent medicine, but a fifty cent package will do more real good for a weak stomach than fifty dollars worth of patent medicines and a person has the satisfaction of knowing just what he is putting into his stomach, which he does not know, when widely advertised patent medicines are used.

It is not probable that this season's games in this city will develop many base ball cranks "The national game" has had its zenith day and is now rapidly on the decline.

Unless the supply of cattle on the hoof be materially increased this year, beef will soon become a rare article of diet among the working people of the United States. There is no longer any question that the rise in price is due to diminished herds and not to combination among the slaughterers.

A newspaper is just what the name implies, the avenue through which the public gains a knowledge of the events of the day. Every column of a paper is a news column. Even the advertisements are business news. The shrewd merchant realizes the fact and lets the people know through a well worded advertisement what news there is in the way of bargains. A clean cut and to the point advertisement has lots of news to many people every day.

The city of Evansville will bring suit to test the law that requires cities to pay township taxes. The claim is set up that the township has no legal right to collect taxes from cities for township purposes. The case will be watched with much interest by every town and city in the state. Should it transpire that Evansville makes a case every other city in the state will also refuse to pay and perhaps bring suit against the townships to recover back taxes.

The women of Lafayette had editorial charge of the Daily Courier of that city yesterday and issued a twenty-four page edition which was highly creditable. The editorial staff was as follows: Mrs. T. A. Stuart, editor-in-chief; Mrs. W. W. Vinnedge, associate editor; Mrs. L. R. Thompson, city editor; Miss Anna Jenners, literary editor; Mrs. A. O. Behm, society editor, and a large corps of assistants. Mrs. B. W. Moore was the business manager. The proceeds of the edition were for the benefit of charity.

Governor McKinley has declared that he will not accept the republican nomination if his party declares in favor of free silver. That will settle him so far as the silver delegates are concerned, and they will be largely in evidence in the next convention. In this connection it may be remembered that ex-Speaker Reed gave a silver lining to his boom a few months ago. General Harrison is expressing no opinion on silver, and this leads to the suspicion that he is preparing to accept that nomination no matter what sort of a platform is framed by the convention.

The definite conclusion of peace between Japan and China ends one of the most decisive wars of modern times. Its battles have been a series of Japanese victories, and the humiliation and defeat of China has been complete and overwhelming. The terms of peace are a heavy blow to the Chinese people, and it will be many years before they can fully recover from their effects. The conditions are exceedingly burdensome, especially the payment of $400,000,000 war indemnity. The cession of Formosa, Port Arthur and the Liao Tung province is objectionable, because it gives a foothold to Japan in the Chinese empire, and practically prohibits further offensive and defensive war operations, for a good many years at least.

Women and Missions.

The convention of the Women's Baptist Missionary Society of the West, which is being held in this city this week, composed as it is of the delegates who are the representatives of their sex in the various states from which they come, impresses upon the mind the potential influence which the women of this nation are today exerting in all those fields of activity which are rolling the world onward toward a higher civilization and evangelization and nearer to that millenium which is promised in the fullness of time.

In every work which has for its object the betterment of the race she is a prominent figure and her voice and pen and purse are devoted to this purpose. In every department of life, whether at home or in public, we find her the friend of education, temperance, charity and religion and always ready to lend them the helping hand. She stands for right in everything, for raising instead of lowering the standard of morality, and for every movement which is calculated to make mankind happier and the world better. She is in fact the friend of all that is good and the foe of all that is evil, and what is better than all she is coming out and showing her colors and proving her loyalty by acts and deeds.

In no field is her influence in this direction felt more than in the church. She is religion's staunchest friend Without her influence and support the Gospel of Christ would fall far short of being the power for good that it is at present. The cause of missions, which sends the Bible and the missionary into heathen nations, finds in the Christian women its greatest helpers and most grandly is she carrying this work forward. She is the heart and soul of this beneficent movement and when the world is converted to Christ it will be the devoted, self-sacrificing women who did so much to bring it about, who will wear the brightest crowns.

Twenty-five years ago the Woman's Foreign mission was only talked of. Our women were wondering if they dare undertake this work, and if they would find recognition in the church, and if so, could they meet the financial obligations that would be incurred. They have succeeded nobly and the coming years will witness grand work done by them. All honor to the missionary women of our nation.

Lack of Good Story Writers.

An immense demand exists for good stories. There seems to be a revival of novel and novelette reading which is remarkable in this hard, realistic age. It may be a reaction from the iron hard necessities that condemn us only to the real and practical.

However that may be, the demand for good stories is not at all supplied. American publishers must go to British writers for their serials. We have few good story writers in America. Those we have have not distinguished themselves lately. There is no way but for American authors to keep on trying till they do strike the right gait.

An editorial notice in Munsey's Magazine utters the universal plaint about the lack of good stories as follows:

We want stories. That is what we mean—stories, not dialect sketches, not washed out studies of effete human nature, not weak tales of sickly sentimentality, not "pretty" writing. This sort of thing in all its varieties comes by the car load every mail. It is not what we want, but we do want fiction in which there is a story, action, force—a tale that means something—in short, a story.

Good writing is as common as clam shells, while good stories are as rare as statesmanship. We get thousands of manuscripts, alleged stories, in which the "story" is not worth the telling—meaningless, flat, inane, and yet these "stories" are carefully, cleverly told. They only lack one thing, and that is the story itself. This magazine has published far too many such stories. It has published them because we have been unable to get better ones. But we have gone just as far as we are going on this road. We are going to stop, and stop short. After this issue there will be no more stories in Munsey's Magazine unless they seem to us to be worth reading. We realize that a story that will interest one person will not necessarily interest his neighbor, but we feel reasonably safe in assuming that a story of good, strong, human interest will appeal to the great majority of readers.

Acting on this decision, we have gone to press without even a serial story in this issue. We went to press without it because we had none worth putting in.

An Aboriginal Inventor.

One would almost as soon expect a Digger Indian to become a great inventor as that Mr. Granville T. Woods would be one. His case contradicts one of the most firmly established scientific theories—that mechanical genius is confined to the white races, and so called civilized ones at that.

Some 30 years ago a boy went to blowing the bellows in a railroad repair shop in Australia. One grandfather was a full blooded Malay. The other grandfather and his two grandmothers were lower yet in the scale of human development, being full blooded Australian aboriginal negroes, those whom we are taught in our geographies to regard as the most inferior known type of humanity. We are left in the dark as to whether the boy had any white blood at all in him, but vanity makes one conclude that he must have had, or he could not have done what he has.

The boy struck his gait when he went into that machine shop. He made himself familiar with every piece of machinery in the shop and paid the superintendent out of his small earnings for private instruction. He came to America and became a railroad engineer. Then he turned his attention to inventing, particularly in the electrical line. He has made many useful electrical inventions, the most important of which is a device for regulating and governing the speed of electric motors. Have we here a negro Tesla or Edison?

The most dazzling scheme of even the nineteenth century is on foot in the freight transportation line. The newly incorporated Interocean Electric Railway company proposes to put coal, grain and other freight through between New York and Chicago in 24 hours at farthest, possibly 12 hours. There is no limit to the speed at which electricity can drive cars except that it must stop short of the point where the car flies to pieces. The railway company named will construct between the two cities an elevated electric railway. Then the trains can travel as fast as they are wanted without running over and killing people or without vexatious obstacles in securing right of way. At present it takes six days for freight cars to cover the route between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard. The time has at length come when electrical power is cheaper than steam. This elevated freight road is only one of the many great enterprises that the next few years will bring forth. In time it is expected to extend this electric freight line to San Francisco. But why stop at freight?

The report of the telephone company shows that of the 396,674 miles of wire operated by it considerably more than a third is underground.

These were bonbonieres in the shape of eggs prettily decorated. There were blue and white for the boys and white and gold for the girls. HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

"For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and the medicines that I thought would help me.

"One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of your Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it. I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to be up and walk around, and now I am doing my housework. Many thanks to Mrs. Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life."—Mrs. Hattie Madaus, 184 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

A Loss of $80,000,000 ! ! !

Labor saving inventions or discoveries have often been violently opposed on the ground that they take workingmen's bread out of their mouths. Although experience has shown the fallacy of that theory the feeling, or fear, was natural.

But it is not so much the lack of work as the inability to work that causes poverty and suffering. In England and Wales every workingman averages ten days of sickness every year, with a total loss of wages for all of about $80,000,000 per year. In this country the loss is much greater. In all countries the prevailing disease is indigestion and dyspepsia, and its consequences—such as rheumatism, and other ailments resulting from impure blood: a result of dyspepsia.

No thorough, rapid and trustworthy cure for this universal and obstinate malady existed until the Mt. Lebanon (N. Y.) Community of Shakers placed upon the market their now famous remedy called the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It is prepared from roots and herbs cultivated solely by them. Nothing more certain, safe and palatable can be imagined. It expels the impurities from the body by means of the bowels, kidneys and skin, and imparts vigor and tone to the stomach—upon whose proper action all our strength, activity and endurance depends. For many years the Shakers have given earnest attention to this subject and their final success is thankfully admitted by the multitudes who have been cured by the Cordial after all other means have failed. Their high reputation for skill as herbolists, for honesty and religious sincerity guarantees whatever they recommend.

No invention can ever take your work from you if you are able to work. Health and strength are the vital considerations.

In order to find whether the Shaker Digestive Cordial is adapted to your case, try a ten-cent bottle. Its effect is immediate. For sale by nearly all druggists.

He Was Mixed.

He had not been in a city for a number of years and was not prepared for all the progress that had been made in the world since his last appearance on the scene. When passing one of the corners of the Union market, he gazed with undisguised expression of satisfaction and pleasure at what he considered a pleasing innovation in city life.

What a hospitable city it was, to be sure, and yet no one seemed to be accepting the courtesy!

"Why, yes, thank you," he said to the man who held out half a dozen oranges.

"You are real kind. I'll take two for myself, being as no one else seems to want any, and three for the old woman at home. What a nice city this is! Drop in on us at the farm some day."

It took the trader and two policemen to explain the situation to the bewildered visitor.—St. Louis Republic.

Hundred Years Hence.

We've read in old books of calamities dire,
Where buildings and bodies in flames would expire.
For they didn't know how to put out a fire,
Oh, ever so long ago.

And people who wanted to ride a few blocks
Paid "street car" fare to ride in a box
That was dragged through the street at the pace of an ox,
Oh, ever so long ago.

Human beings, they say, never sailed in the air,
Except in balloons let loose at some fair,
And away went the things only heaven knows where,
Oh, ever so long ago.

It took six days for a first class ship
To make a two days' very easy trip,
From an old world dock to a New York slip,
Oh, ever so long ago.

Most cities were lighted by gas at night,
A marvelous thing was electric light.
Oh, people were awfully, wondrously bright
Oh, ever so long ago.

For eight or nine hours' work a day,
Two dollars, or two and a half, we'll say,
Was considered by many as real good pay,
Oh, ever so long ago.

Men of intelligence worked on the streets,
While silly, soft headed political cheats
Who could buy the most votes held the lawmakers' seats,
Oh, ever so long ago.

The railroads were owned by a few millionaires,
Who divided the profits according to shares,
And whose pockets were fat with the railroad fares,
Oh, ever so long ago.

The working class labored six days out of seven,
And they stood a poor chance for their tickets to heaven
If they had a good time on the holiday given,
Oh, ever so long ago.

Lyon Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.:

I wish to congratulate you in being in possession of a grand remedy in LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS. I was in very poor health for a long time, could eat no solid food, and scarcely anything else; had no appetite, but a continued distress in my stomach, and was very poor in flesh. Your remedy being recommended by one who had tried them, I got a box of same, and can cheerfully and gladly say, after using them, the distress in my stomach entirely ceased, my appetite increased wonderfully, and I gained in flesh very perceptibly. I am a lady seventy-four years of age, and can say that LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS have given me a new lease on life. I feel grateful toward you and your remedy. It does more than you claim for it, and no words of praise can do it justice.

Gratefully yours,

Mrs. Cynthia Ransom.

CLANCY OF CHICAGO.

HOW THAT STATESMAN RAN THE ELECTION IN THE FIFTH

Everything Seemed Coming Honan s Way and Coming His Way In Hacks, but When the Votes Were Counted a 'Has Been" Was Very Much In Evidence

Thomas Clancy rose early Stepping to the window he drew back the curtains and noted with apparent satisfaction that the weather was misty, cold and altogether cheerless "That," said Mr Clancy ... in good ... to keep the boys in line "

"I hope you'll be careful," said his mother

To this warning Mr Clancy paid little heed, and when his sister added, 'I know you ll be hurted," he sniffed disdainfully, and intimated that what women did not know about politics would fill several large books

'Well, I hope your side wins any way," said Miss Clancy, smiling and gazing fondly at her brother with such lustrous eyes as are the inheritance of every north of Ireland girl Somewhat mollified by his sister s good wishes, Mr Clancy grinned and remarked that "the boy as could throw Martie Honan up in the air didn t live in the Fifth ward "

Half way down the block he met the vice president of the ward club

'How s every old thing? ' remarked the vice president by way of greeting

"Comin our way an comin in hacks, Terry," said Mr Clancy

Mr Clancy knew precisely where his "bailiwick " as he called the Fifth ward, ended and where it began With in these boundaries Mr Clancy counted as his personal and intimate friends not less than 1,800 ablebodied men, all empowered by age length of residence or by their naturalization papers to exercise the inestimable privileges of the ballot

Having espoused the cause of his friend, Martin W Honan, who had expressed aldermanic ambitions, Mr Clancy intended, as he himself put it to see Martie a winner if it took a leg "

Of the other candidates Mr Clancy spoke no ill, but announced kindly though firmly that he "passed 'em up for a better boy " Well, one of the candidates, Thomas disposed of by saying, "He ain't got no show at all nor no call to run ' Such, in truth, appeared to be the fact

The polls did not open until 1 o'clock in the afternoon Pending that time Clancy and the vice president busied themselves in ways known to practical politicians They visited the lumber yards down by the river and talked to the lumber shovers there employed Thence they went to the gas works and sat on the cinder heaps, singing the praises of Honan In brief, before noon they had made a pretty thorough canvass of the ward, and not one man to whom they talked but pledged his vote to Martie Honan Such was Tommy's power in the ward

Thomas Clancy went to the polling place and loaded his pockets with Honan tickets Pinning on his breast a white silk badge with the name of his precinct across it, Mr Clancy started to work The fervor of battle was in him, and he paused not for food or drink until long after 7 o clock at night. How he rode from polling place to polling place, how he blarneyed and joked and argued and pleaded, how he routed out all the laggards and how he brought them up in hacks and buses—all these things may not be herein told, but they are held in grateful memory by Mr Honan, whose battles Tommy so manfully fought

"At the best part of it was," said Mr Clancy when the battle rested, "was tont there was t the least vi lence "

That such was the case is largely due to the efforts of Mr Clancy and his friends When the turbulent ones showed signs of irruption, Mr Clancy beckoned them from beyond the vision of the police, and there bade them, as they loved order and respected law to quit playin horse or he d break in their faces " At one time when the strain became particularly tense, Mr Clancy felt compelled to choke one malcontent into submission in the interests of peace and good order There were signs of a fierce altercation when somebody whispered 'Hist Tommy, here comes the father "

Tommy, with great speed and adroitness, kicked the offender into a convenient stairway and forthwith presented an innocent and smiling front to the good father who was passing by Then it was 'How do you do Thomas?' from the holy man, and a dignified "Well, sir an many thanks to you, father " from Thomas, who, even as he spoke, administered a vigorous backward kick to his enemy in the stairway

The peaceful conduct and the uniform forbearance Mr Clancy maintained throughout the day were perhaps somewhat due to the fact that he had seen fit to leave what he called his 'gun ' at home in the morning As he placed it in the bureau drawer he had said, ' I won't give 'em no call to make a kick, ' which was his own peculiar way of ... must be above suspicion A reformer, he felt, could not afford to be caught carrying concealed weapons

At 7 30 o'clock when the vote was all in, and not till then, did Statesman Clancy pause in his labors Three hours later the judges and clerks had completed their work and Clancy knew the worst. Honan, the invincible Honan, had been beaten, and that too, by Wall whom Clancy had called a 'has been " —Chicago Times Herald

HE TRIED HARD

But It's Always Difficult For a Man to Find Anything

George, dear said Mrs Newlywed the other evening just as they were about to leave the house for the opera I've left my fan up on the dressing case in my room, and I can t go without it Won t you run up and get it that s a dear

George goes up three steps at a time A moment later his voice comes down awfully slump for a man who has been married but six months

'It isn t on the dresser he say

Why yes it must be dear I took in the upper drawer in that long blue box in the left hand corner Don t muss things all up Is it there

No, it isn t

Oh it must be Look good Found it'

No, I haven t

Well don t get cross at me about it Maybe I left it on the bed Is it there

No I ll be —

George! If you can t do a little favor for your wife without swearing about it you needn t do it at all Look in the second drawer of the dresser in that pink box Is it there?

No it isn t, and I know it wasn t before I look ed'

You didn t know anything of the sort! Do find it some place We re late now Maybe it s on the mantel I know I laid it down some place while I tied my bonnet Is it on the mantel?

No it is not of the mantel I ll just be eternally' —

George! If you swear again I ll take off my things and stay at home' If you'd look for the fan instead of prancing around and swearing like a trooper, you d find it See if it is in my bonnet box Sometimes I drop it in there Found it'

' Found it" ' snarls George jeeringly Talk about a needle in a haystack! It s nothing compared to a . .

George Newlywed! Just as sure as you speak that way again I ll stay at home I look on the chairs and the table and—what are you doing up there' Up setting chairs and kicking over things and growling like some wild animal I d be ashamed I suppose I ll have to come and look for the fan myself tired as I am Can t you find it?

I find nothing! A man might as well hunt for the north pole or Captain Kidd s treasure or a particular grain of sand in the bottom of the sea as to look for

There there! Stop making quite such a pitiful spectacle of yourself If I were a man I d be a man! I look in the closet—Oh here s the fan I declare it looks if it had been lying here on the hall rack all the time I remember now that I had it down when I—George Newlywed! I d be serving you right if I didn t go a step with you Swearing like that! Come on—crotch! I suppose you ll snarl and sulk all the way down town! A prediction that was fully verified —Detroit Free Press

Accident.

Did you hear about the accident last Monday evening? If you didn't call on Randall Cycle Co., and hear about it, also see the two Bicycles which were in it. It is simply wonderful the strength of a Winton Bicycle frame. A young man riding a wheel faster than a three minute gate collides with a buggy and the double frame of the Winton never flinched, although the front wheel was completely demolished. No wonder the boys are all buying the Winton, she's a winner sure.

The Military Fair—Who Will Be There?

Realizing that it is going to be a great thing; that they are going to give away a piano, a handsome set of furniture and a high grade bicycle; that the representatives of all those wares will make a display there; that the boys are going to carry out the program of entertainment on the stage every night; that there will be something to interest every one, including a dance every evening, and that every one would be there, the management concluded that an unobtrusive, but important element in society—the typewriter girl—should have her share, and that the latest invention in typewriting machinery, a No. 5 Blickensderfer, would be given to the most popular manipulator of the keys on any machine.

When Mr. Dixon Edgerton, the state agent for the "Blickensderfer" saw what a representative assortment of donations and displays were going to be made by the leading business houses of this city, the management soon "persuaded" him to "realize" that it was the right place for the right thing. Who will be there?—"The Blickensderfer."

AFRAID TO DEAL IN IT.

Oil Reaches a Point Where There are No Sales.

Although Brokers are Predicting That the Price Will Go Up to $3, They Fear to Invest.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 17—Oil has now reached that point where speculators are afraid to deal in it and as a result there was not a sale on the Pittsburg exchange during the first half hour this morning, while the sales on the Oil City exchange during the same period aggregated only 7,000 barrels.

The Standard again put up its price 25 cents, to $2.50 and May options were offered here at the opening for $2.70. Cash oil was offered at $2.75. There were no buyers and the price gradually dropped to 69 and then to 67 and at 10.30 $2.65 was bid. While many brokers are predicting $4 oil this week few of them have sufficient faith in their own prophecy to invest.

The Standard Oil company, through its purchasing agents, has secured possession of several more acres of oil producing territory. The Southwest Pennsylvania Oil company, a Standard concern, has bought the remaining three-fourths interest in the Mannington and Farview, W. Va., territory, containing about 8,000 acres and 300 wells, with a production of 6,000 barrels per day. The Standard has also purchased a three-fifths interest in the Carter Oil company, at Sistersville, W. Va., at a price in the neighborhood of $200,000. The Carter company owned about 100 wells, with a daily production of 1,000 barrels.

David Kirk, one of the best posted men in the oil business, in discussing the present boom in oil, said:

"Petroleum will be the means of bringing the country out of the period of depression that has prevailed for the past two years. That was the case in 1878, when our finances were at a low ebb. Oil made the first advance and as it went up in price the business of the country improved. The same was true in 1884. The most important effect on the increased price on the finances of the country will be the increase in the amount of gold brought into the country in payment for the petroleum we export. Oil is paid for in yellow gold and is one of our most important exports. We ship something like 20,000,000 barrels annually and with the price hanging about fifty cents the aggregate receipt from this source amount to about $10,000,000. Now with oil at the present prices we would receive something like $15,000,000 for our exports. This would be a clear gain of $35,000,000 a year which would go far toward offsetting the heavy exports on gold during the past two years. But that is not the only influence at work. There are internal improvements that are already here and will continue to grow all the year. Our manufacturers are already feeling the boom. I think the oil interests will use considerably more than twice as much iron of all kinds this year as they did last. This will give employment to hosts of men who will become good buyers and so create a better market for all kinds of merchandise."

The market was much quieter up until noon today than it was yesterday and the range of fluctuation was narrow. The highest point reached was $2.70 and at 12 o'clock May option stood at $2.62 and cash oil at $2.58½ bid. The feature of the market this morning was the announcement that the Atlantic Refining Oil company had raised the price of the refined article another cent per gallon. This may have a bullish effect upon the market this afternoon, as it was not known until nearly 12 o'clock. The total advance in the price of refined oil in the past two weeks is four cents per gallon, or $2 per barrel. The sales of oil on the Pittsburg exchange this forenoon were about 2,000 barrels.

GLASGOW, April 17.—The Scotch Oil company, at a meeting here today, raised the price of petroleum two pence per gallon, making an advance of three pence in one week.

ANTWERP, April 17.—Petroleum is quoted at thirty-four francs.

BREMEN, April 17.—Petroleum at thirty-four marks.

HAMBURG, April 17.—Petroleum firm at thirteen marks.

PORTLAND, Ind., April 17.—The advance in oil is causing a wonderful activity in the Indiana field, and a well known producer estimated today that between 400 and 500 new wells have already been started in Blackford, Adams, Randolph, Wells and Jay counties. Drillers and tool dressers are all engaged, and it is almost impossible to get teams to haul rigs in the field. Many wells are already drilling, and the stimulated activity is sure to be the cause of some "gushers" coming in. It is not thought that the advance is an effort to crush out any, but is brought about by the demand being greater than the supply.

FLORENCE, Col., April 17.—The flurry in oil throughout Pennsylvania and Ohio has not affected the price of oil in the Florence district as yet. Oil men here look upon the sudden and rapid rise in the price of crude oil with suspicion. They think it may be some new dodge of the Standard.

Thomas Robinson, superintendent of the United Oil company, thinks if the present price of oil continues in the east it must affect prices here sooner or later as it consequently help the Colorado product.

Isaac Caufield, general manager of the Triumph Oil company, says: "The rise in oil can not affect us. It would not if the price should go up to $10 per barrel. The Standard has raised the price of oil everywhere except where it comes into competition with the Florence Oil and Refining company, which is an independent producer and refiner."

BOSTON, April 17.—The Standard today publishes an interview with Foster D Edwards, agent of the Commercial Refining company, in this city, and one of the leading representatives of the oil interest. Concerning the rise in the price of oil, Mr. Edwards said in part: "The immediate cause of the advance is that the supply is not equal to the demand, but the scarcity was brought about by the attempt of the trust to crush its competitors out of existence. The reason the Standard Oil company has been unable to manipulate the oil industry is because it unites in its business all three branches—production, refining and distributing—whereas these several branches were not combined in interest among the independent dealers. My idea at first was that the Standard people were afraid that if they continued to keep the prices down the producers, refiners and distributors would unite for the protection of each other, and I don't know but I am right."

OIL GOES DOWN.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 17.—Oil broke from $2.62½ to $2.10 at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and closed at $2.17. Great excitement prevailed on the exchange.

ABANDONED THE LAW.

The Haytian Government Recalls an Injury.

Was Discriminating Against American Commerce, But Secretary Gresham Makes a Vigorous and Effectual Protest.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The state department has checked in its inception an attempt made by the Haytian government to impose a discriminating tax upon American citizens and other foreigners residing in Hayti. The proposition was under consideration in the country as long ago as August, 1893, and a bill had been framed by the government to that effect, when the matter was reported to Secretary Gresham by Mr. Durham, then United States minister. Secretary Gresham immediately entered a most vigorous protest, pointing out that the proposed law would be in direct conflict with the treaty, which guaranteed that Americans should not be subjected to any tax not imposed upon Haytians. Thereupon, according to the American minister's statement, the government abandoned its contemplated action.

REPORTED WRECK.

An Atlantic Coast Line Train Said to Have Been Demolished.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 17.—The West India fast mail on the Atlantic Coast Line was wrecked and burned about a hundred miles south of here this morning at 3 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—At the office of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, in this city, it was stated that there was no train reported wrecked. The southbound West India fast mail did not leave here until 4 o'clock this morning and the west bound train of the same denomination arrived here this morning only an hour late. If there was a wreck on the road it was thought that it must have been a local train.

Killed and Wounded.

CALCUTTA, April 17.—A dispatch from Simla today says that Umra Khan has informed Sir Robert Low, the commander of the British expedition advancing on Chitral, that if the British advance any further he intends to flee from the country. THE TERMS OF PEACE

As Agreed Upon Between Japan and China.

The Indemnity to be Paid to Japan is Equivalent to $170,000,000 in Gold Coin.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Chinese imperial edict sent by the Associated Press last night from Tain is accepted among officials and diplomats here as setting at rest the conflicting reports as to final terms of peace and as showing that the first reports via London were inaccurate in their detail.

The indemnity of 200,000,000 taels is a compromise. Japan first demanded 300,000,000 taels, but on the solicitation of Prince Li threw off 100,000,000. At the Chinese legation it is stated that the teal varies in value, but that the present value of the customs on treasury teal, which is undoubtedly the one in which payment will be made, is $1.30 in Mexican silver, or about seventy-five cents in gold. This would make indemnity equivalent to $300,000,000 Mexican money, or $150,000,000 in gold. The Mexican trade dollar is the current coin of China and the basis of calculation, so that the belief is very strong, though information on the subject is lacking, that the payment will be in silver.

The edict that Japan is to occupy the Liao Tung peninsula up to the fortieth degree of latitude settles the important point that she is to have the great fortress of Port Arthur and the immediately surrounding territory, as foreshadowed in these dispatches. The Liao Tung peninsula is a small point of land jutting southward into the gulf of Pechili, with Port Arthur at its extreme point. The fortieth degree of latitude cuts across the mainland where the little peninsula broadens into the mainland of Manchuria. This inner peninsula has the shape of a sword and is known as "regret's sword." The edict does not state whether Japan gets this acquisition permanently or until the indemnity is paid. She has contended on having it permanently, as it would give Japan command of the gulf of Pechili leading to Japan. If the occupation is temporary it will give Japan a military command of China as long the occupation lasts. The duration of the occupancy is most important and on this point undoubtedly will depend any action European powers may take. The permanent occupation of the island of Formosa has been settled for some time. This opens Pekin and some new ports of commerce by the introduction of modern methods into the interior of China. Japan has gained the privilege of establishing her cotton and other factories in China but it remains to be seen whether Japanese capital will invest in these enterprises, or the Chinese will buy these modern fabrics.

The edict makes a significant omission as to the reported Japanese-China alliance, offensive and defensive which, if consummated, would have given "the Orient to the Orientals." The Japanese and Chinese officials in Washington have never credited the report of the alliance.

LATER

Japan's occupation of Port Arthur is temporary, thus securing China's integrity on the mainland of Asia after a term of years and avoiding the possibility of European intervention.

A TRAMP'S DEED.

Demanded Food of Some Unprotected Children.

And Because They Refuse Him, He Fires Out Barn, Entailing a Loss of Over $3,000.

DECATUR, Ind., April 17.—Yesterday morning Jacob Faust and wife, residing in French township, about eight miles east of this place, came to this city, leaving three small children at home. Shortly after their departure a tramp appeared at the house, demanding something to eat, which was refused by the frightened children, who barricaded and locked the door. The children discovered the summer kitchen, adjoining the house, on fire and rushed out and extinguished the flames. As soon as the flames were extinguished the tramp appeared again and demanded food, saying he would "kill all of them if they did not give him something to eat, or if they ever told of him being there." Again he was locked out, and soon the large barn was discovered on fire. Afraid of their lives, the three small children stood in the house and saw the flames destroy the barn, containing thirty tons of hay, wheat, oats and twelve head of Jersey cattle, entailing a loss of $3,000, with no insurance. The flames soon attracted neighbors, who are now scouring the country for the incendiary. If caught a lynching bee will be the result. According to the description given by the children the tramp is about sixty years old and gray haired.

NOT ELIGIBLE AS MINISTER.

Ex-Senator Bannan May Not be Envoy to Mexico.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—According to some constitutional experts, ex-Senator Bannan is not minister to Mexico. They say the mission is vacant because the constitution has been violated article 1, section 6, clause 2, is the portion referred to, which reads:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time."

The salary of the minister to Mexico was increased from $7,500 to $17,500 by a provision in the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill passed in the recent session of the fifty first congress. Mr. Bannan was present in the senate at the time the bill was agreed to and made no objection. Hence it is claimed he is not eligible.

PERRY, THE ROBBER.

He Talks Concerning His Hidden Treasure.

Won't Divulge the Hiding Place Nor the Amount—Insists Upon a Requisition.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Perry, the train robber, last recovered some of his old time audacity when he awoke in the county jail in Jersey City today. "I shall not go back to Watteau and its horrors until I am compelled to," he said to a reporter. "When I go there it will be through extradition and by another process. I am being treated humanely now and I like it."

Perry was asked concerning his treasure, said to be secreted in the vicinity of Little Falls. He admitted that he had a sum of money hidden away, but he refused to tell where or how much it amounted to.

"I will say this much," said Perry, "an express company has stated that all that was taken by me was $50 00. Now it amounted to a great deal more, but how much I won't say."

Perry gave the impression that the treasure was buried further west than Little Falls. Perry will be held in the New Jersey prison until a requisition can be procured by the Mattewan authorities. The chief of police and mayor of Weehawken called at the jail today and told Warden Mitchell not to surrender Perry until the $2,250 reward had been paid over to Detective Edward J. Clifford and Policeman McAlocco, who captured the outlaw.

Perry had a stormy interview with Keeper Coyle last night. When he saw the keeper he shouted: "Say, Coyle, I want to tell you that if I'm put in the isolated ward and treated as I have been hitherto there'll be trouble. I want to give you and the others fair warning. I shall submit no longer. If it comes to the worst some one will suffer."

RESUMED WORK.

Glass Sprecklers' Sugar Refinery Again in Operation.

The Unprecedented Condition of the Sugar Market Has Disappeared and a Healthy Demand Has Taken Its Place.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 17.—Spreckel's sugar refinery, which had been closed for about two weeks by order of the sugar trust, by which it is controlled, has started in run again. The resumption of work is looked upon as a steady one. The plant is running on nearly full time, but with a reduced force. The other refinery, at Williamsburg, N. Y., which was closed by the trust at the same time the Spreckels plant was shut down, has also resumed work. The demand for refined sugars, which was very dull when the two refineries were closed, has been brighter for the last two or three days, and though the market is still overstocked, it is thought probable that a healthy condition will soon be restored. The McAshan refinery, which is not controlled by the trust, is running nearly full time.

MUST EXPLAIN.

Guatemala Must Show Cause for Abusing Americans.

Uncle Sam is Indignant at the Treatment Accorded His Boys and Demands Answers.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—There was much complaint during the past year of the abuse of American citizens in Guatemala. In some cases, like that of Henry J. Stibbs, officers of American vessels were seized in Guatemalan ports and forced into the military service. In others, American workmen peacefully engaged in their labors, were imprisoned and maltreated and others still were subjected to the indignity of lashing upon the bare backs. The department of state has called for explanations from the Guatemalan government and directed investigations through our consular officers upon which to base demands for indemnity.

A GREAT PROMISED.

Rev. W. McDowell to Lecture on Persia This Evening.

The Rev. W. McDowell, of Mendi, Persia, who is on a tour of the United States, will deliver a lecture at the First Presbyterian church this evening. Mr. McDowell has been doing missionary work in Persia for a number of years and has mingled freely in the daily life of the Orientals and is therefore able to give an interesting account of missionary work in the east. The members of the Westminster and Third Presbyterian churches will not hold prayer meeting tonight, but have decided to adjourn in order to attend the above lecture. Those who have heard Mr. McDowell at the Auburn Presbytery speak very highly of him and urge a large audience for him in this city.

POLICE NEWS.

A Suspicious Character Arrested Back of Jackson's Saloon.

A Woman Charged With Deliberately Starving a Young Child—Boys Before Either Court.

This morning, back of Jackson's saloon, in a hallway, Officer Faulks found a badly intoxicated man lying on the floor and clutching a crumpled up piece of paper. The fellow was pulled out onto the side walk and the paper was found to be a check on the bank at Churubusco for $250 signed by E. E. Gandy, and made payable to one Fred Lorence. The man said this was his name and told the officer that his home was in Columbia City, where he worked as a tailor.

Officer Faulks was suspicious that the check was not good, but let the man go. It is thought that Lorence is the man whom Officer Aiken shot at on Monday night. The fellow has been here since last Saturday on a big drunk and unless something is done with him he is liable to come to harm. On Monday night Lorence was going up and down Calhoun street stopping people and asking for money. The man has some threat trouble and can scarcely speak above a whisper.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER.

Humane Agent Schlandorf is home from Sheldon, Ind., where he went to see a Mrs. Cummings, who wrote him concerning her eleven months old child, which she claimed was being starved to death by a woman living at Ferguson station. It appears that Mrs Cummings is a working woman and is compelled to leave her child with whoever she can hire to care for the infant. The humane officer found the little one in a deplorable plight. The woman who was keeping it had been feeding it on crackers and black coffee and the food did not seem to agree with the child. The Humane officer brought the child to this city and took it to the Orphans' home, where it now is.

BOYS LET GO.

The seven boys who were arrested west of the city the other night for associating with a woman of questionable character were all on trial before the mayor this morning. The evidence went to show that there were some mitigating circumstances in the case and upon the recommendation of Deputy Prosecutor Ryan, Mayor Oakley dismissed the case against all the boys, who are sons of respectable west side residents. The little chaps were in jail and were bailed out last evening.

DRUNKS FINED.

The were three cases for drunkenness before the mayor this morning. A. M. Baker, John Jones and Herr Most. The latter name, which is fictitious, was given by a man arrested at the south depot last night by Officer Jewell. He was sent to jail. The other drunks paid fines.

POLICE PICK UPS.

Sergeant Dateler and Officer Knock discovered a blazing store box in the alley between Berry and Main, near Maiden Lane, last night, in dangerous proximity to a building. The officers put out the blaze without calling the fire department and prevented what might have been a costly conflagration.

A tramp arrested at the station house the other day had a diary of fifty pages, in which was recorded in an interesting love affair astonding over the period of a year. The tramp was a young country boy who had evidently run away from home. He had been in love "head over heels" but whether this had anything to do with his present forlorn condition is not known.

Charles Strack, the well known farmer, whose son-in-law, Jesse McLaren, keeps a saloon south of this city, stated to the SENTINEL reporter this morning that at the time of the recent row at the saloon he was at home on the farm and knew nothing of the affair. He does not sanction any of the lawless acts which take place in the saloon of his son-in-law and wishes the place was closed up.

CRIMES AND CRIMINALS.

Logan E. Wood Shot and Badly Wounded.

Governor Stone Respites Seven Murderers Until May 31—The Green Family on Trial.

CENTRALIA, April 17.—At Covington, Ky., last night Logan E. Wood a prominent real estate dealer, was badly wounded in an attempted assassination. Two ladies, Mrs. Stewart and daughter, called at Wood's office in the evening on business. Wood accompanied them home and while returning was shot by a man supposed to be jealous of Wood's attentions to Miss Stewart. Wood may not recover.

STERLING, Mo., April 17.—The examination of the Green family for the murder of Pearl Hildebrant was continued today, and throughout there was a guard of twenty-five armed deputies in attendance. A number of witnesses are still to be examined and the hearing may continue for another day. Things have quieted down and fears of a wholesale lynching are growing less.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. April 17.—All the seven murderers who were to have been hanged in this state on Saturday, the 20th inst., Governor Stone today granted a respite in each case until Saturday, May 31. The parties respited are: Jacob Hieme, Henry Kaiser and Wm. Taylor, all of St. Louis, James Murray, St Louis county, Edward Mutrey, Greenville county, John Bunce, alias Joseph Reilly, Daly St Joseph, and James Craig, of Washington county. This makes the fourth time that Hieme and Kaiser have been on the block of the scaffold and saved by a respite from the governor.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 17.—Geo. W. Tindell, a Boone county farmer who had been drinking freely for a day or two, shot himself this morning in the room in the Burlington hotel, Covington, Ky. He left a letter to his mother saying he was tired of life.

OUT ON BAIL.

Mrs. Dolan is Released From the County Jail.

Prosecutes Cases in the Justice Courts—Marriage Licenses—Summer Tourist Ship School Home.

Mr. Dolan, charged with receiving goods which had been stolen, appeared before Judge O'Rourke in the circuit court this morning with her attorney, E. V. Emrick, and gave bail in the sum of $200, with Messrs Bowers and McBride as surety, for her appearance when her case is set for trial. She has been in jail since her arrest.

COURT NEWS.

Justice France fined Abraham Gray $1 and costs for provoke.

E. V. Emrick has returned from Port Huron, Mich., where he went on legal business.

Justice Hays has moved his office to West Main street, back of Swayne's law office.

Judge O'Rourke gave Robert W. Wright a divorce from Mollie Wright.

Simeon Rinch and Lenora J. Beeson, Fred W. Shuter and Louisa Waltenrath, Frank Simmers and Rosa Stree-han, Andrew M. Harkey and Dora Hull have been licensed to wed.

The damage case of Frank D. Harkins vs the Wabash Railroad company has been sent to Allen county for trial on change of venue from Huntington county. The suit is one for breach of contract, the plaintiff alleging that the defendant agreed to touch him the trade of a machinist, but dismissed him from their service before the expiration of said contract.

Thomas B. Shoaff has sold to Ann Barkley lot No. 11 in Ewing's grove addition, for $1 000; George J. and Susie J. Young sell to Louis J. Bolilys lot 12, in Rockhill's addition, for $1 200. F. G. Russell has purchased from O. W. Sullivan lot No. 79, in Fletcher's addition, for $2 000.

Yesterday afternoon Bella Himps filed an affidavit against Genca Converse, charging her with provoke. The parties to the case are both deaf mutes and the offense consisted in the plaintiff calling the defendant a "chippy." Justice France after reading the evidence, which was given in writing, fined the defendant $1 and costs, which was paid.

The Indiana Novelty company, of Plymouth, has sued Louis Rastetter, of Fort Wayne, in the federal court at Indianapolis, alleging that he is infringing a wheel patent owned by them, known as the Harrington patent. An injunction is asked to restrain the defendant from using the patent, and an accounting of profits is demanded.

In reference to the remonstrance which will be presented next week to the county commissioners by some of the residents of Maumee township, one of the residents of that township writes THE SENTINEL as follows: "The remonstrance is not simply against the building of a school house. Mr. R. H. Shirley, the present trustee, who goes out of office in less than ninety days, has petitioned the board of commissioners for permission to issue certificates of indebtedness, or bond the township, to pay off a large debt already created by him (which the remonstrants believe to have been incurred unlawfully and in violation of law); and, for the purpose of rebuilding a brick school house which he, himself, built some fourteen years ago and now condemns as unsafe. One of the questions which the remonstrants propose to bring before the board is the legality of Mr. Shirley's creating township indebtedness without proper authority being first procured and without the taxpayers having an opportunity of knowing how and where the money was to be expended. The people of Maumee recognize the needs of their township in the matter of more and better school houses and are willing to pay for them as fast as they can be afforded, but they are also fully aware of their rights in the matter and of the necessity for the fair and economical use of the money taxed from them for school purposes. The petition recently circulated in the vicinity of Woodburn, asking that the railroad change the name of that station to Shirley, seems to have been abandoned or to have failed, as the railroad people have announced that they will not change the name Woodburn it has been for thirty years and Woodburn it is to remain."

SYNODICAL MEETING

German Evangelical Lutherans Gather at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 17.—The synod of the German Evangelical Lutheran church in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky began its thirty second annual session here this morning, with about 90 delegates present. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. H. C. Schuen, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the church in the United States. The session will continue several days.

FRANCHISE EXPIRES.

The New Telephone Company Says It Is Still Valid.

A Hitch Between the Rearguard People and the Fort Wayne Capitalists—Construction Delayed.

The telephone situation in Fort Wayne has assumed the proportions of a genuine Chinese puzzle, and wise men who are usually posted on all topics relating to local financial projects are in the dark when it comes to unraveling the problem.

Yesterday the franchise granted six months ago by the common council to the Fort Wayne District Telegraph and Telephone company expired and whether it is now legally held is a question which can only be decided in the courts. That the council will take any steps to hinder a new company from giving the people cheaper telephones is not likely, but the people would like to see the work begun and the long promised lower rate of telephone tolls established.

Curious as it may seem, the Central Union company is going right along with their work and putting in a magnificent system of improvements at the cost of $30,000, and further, they do not seem to care whether the Harrison people's franchise expires or not.

It will be remembered that the telephoning situation was reviewed at considerable length in the SENTINEL at the time of the consolidation of the interests of the Fort Wayne District Telephone and Telegraph company with that of the Harrison people. This strong organization proposed at once to pitch in and give the people a new system by May 1st or June at the latest. That there is a "hitch" between the Fort Wayne men interested in the project and the representatives of the Harrison company is now quite evident. In fact, it is freely acknowledged by both sides that such is the case. While it is hoped that the new company will not be disturbed it is feared that such is the case temporarily.

A gentleman outside the company says the trouble originated over the project of raising the $80,000 stock, which was not as liberally subscribed as might have been supposed.

Within the past few weeks C. E. Higgins has made four trips to Lafayette to confer with the Harrison officials and stated last evening that the new system would be put in "exclusively by home capital" and in a hurry when once started.

L. N. Wood, of the Harrison interest, was interviewed by a SENTINEL representative this morning. In answer to the query as to whether the company would allow their franchise to lapse, he said:

"We still hold the franchise, for we have a system of telephones already established and twelve or fifteen 'phones in operation."

"Why do you not go ahead with the work of putting in a new system?" was next asked.

"Well, never fear," was the reply, "we will give the people a new system and that shortly. The only trouble just now seems to be with the poles. We have only a few of each poles as we need and must get a new supply from the north. Our construction force was here last week ready to go to work but found us without necessary material to start on."

Mr. Wood declined to discuss the cause of the disagreement between the outside and local interests, but stoutly maintained that the people would have cheaper telephones and that they would be of the Harrison make, which he claims is the only instrument and an infringement upon the Bell telephone.

Citizens do not care who puts in a new telephone system in Fort Wayne, provided they give us good service and cheaper rates, and it is to be hoped the disagreements between the two interests of the new company will be soon amicably settled.

Whether the lapsing of their franchise will materially interfere remains yet to be seen.

FORT WAYNE BEATEN.

The Home Nine No Match for the Cleveland Boys.

Our Team, However, Makes a Good Impression—Their Opponents Were Best of the National League.

A very fair crowd witnessed the first game of ball at Lakeside park yesterday afternoon and, despite the fact that the Fort Wayne team was beaten by a score of 11 to 1, it is no argument that the home nine cannot play ball. The Cleveland team is a member of the National league and have seen two or three weeks professional practice already this season, while the home nine are just getting their hands hardened up, so to speak.

The weather was not very favorable for a game as the raw north wind seemed to put a damper on players and spectators.

Several times Manager Jewell's men filled the bases but were put out before they scored. In the seventh inning Peek-Abo Veach struck a two bagger and Crook followed with a low hit which placed Veach on third. A drive in the ninth by White into McAleer's hands was not held by the visitor's fielder, luring White to second. Boland hit to Tebeau, who muffed, giving White an opportunity to save the local team from being shut out. The score was:

Yesterday's Ball Game.

The two military companies of this city, the Rifles and the True Blues, will begin a military fair at Randall hall tomorrow night. The soldier boys are assisted in their efforts by the ladies, who have been engaged the last few days in arranging the armory for the occasion. They have it handsomely decorated and when the fair opens tomorrow night they will give the patrons a pleasant surprise and present a program of amusement that will please all. The military companies are always ready to give their services on public occasions and they ought to be liberally patronized during the continuance of the fair. The Rifles and True Blues will meet at the armory tomorrow night at 7 o'clock to participate in a parade.

The following are the scores made by some of the League clubs yesterday: At Baltimore—Baltimore, 14; Yale, 2. At New York—New York, 20, Columbia, 2. At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 5; St. Paul, 3. At Champaign, Ill.—Peoria, 7, University of Illinois, 6. At Lincoln, Neb.—Lincoln, 2, Kansas City, 0.

GAME OFF.

This afternoon's game was called off at about noon on account of the weather and the fact that the Cleveland team goes from here to Cincinnati tomorrow where they open up the National season.

The next game to be played at Lakeside will be with the Toledos, who are the champions of the Western league. The match is billed for Friday and Saturday, but Manager Jewell has telegraphed asking them if they can not come tomorrow.

WOMEN OF THE WEST.

Missionary Workers Meet in Convention in This City.

The Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the West, Representing Eight States.

This morning at 10 o'clock there convened at the Baptist Tabernacle an earnest and representative body of women, from eight states of the west, for the purpose of holding a two day's convention.

The gathering is the annual convention of the Women's Baptist Foreign missionary of the west, representing the states of Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado, and is held for the purpose of discussing and deciding questions calculated to advance the interests of the church in foreign missionary fields and the best manner of extending the influence of the gospel in heathen nations.

The convention was called to order by Mrs. Lyman Breckinridge, of Chicago, with Mrs. E. W. Brayman, of the same city, as secretary; Mrs. E. H. Griffiths, home secretary; Mrs. A. M. Bacon, foreign secretary, and Miss Mary W. Ranney, of Chicago, as treasurer, all of whom occupied seats on the platform.

The responsive Scripture reading was conducted by the president, after which Mrs. F. C. Cratsley, on behalf of the society in this city, extended to the delegates a warm greeting. Miss E. Church, speaking for the society of the west, responded in a fitting manner and then the treasurer, Miss Mary W. Ranney, of Chicago, read her report, which showed the receipts and expenses of the society for the past year as follows: Receipts, $15 000; expenses, $13,000; leaving a deficit of $2,000. She also reported the flourishing condition of the home for missionaries' children, at Morgan Park, Ill., the receipts for this purpose being $1,500 and the expenses about the same.

The report of the home secretary, Mrs. Griffiths, reviewing the work of the year, was then made, followed by the reports of the field workers. Mrs. W. W. Campbell spoke for Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and southern Illinois, Mrs. J. B. Black for Missouri and Indiana, and Miss Smart and Mrs. Crippen for other states.

The closing half hour of the morning session was devotional service conducted by Dr. Caroline H. Davis, of Michigan. The feature of this service was the prayer of Aunt Lizzie Aikens, one of the notable women of the convention, which was an earnest petition for the presence and power of the holy spirit.

This afternoon missionary addresses were delivered by the two missionaries of Burma, Mrs. H. W. Hancock and Miss L. B. Black.

This evening the program at the church is as follows:

Bible Reading.
Mrs. Marion Lelo Stevens, Indiana
A Trip Around the World.
Miss Georgiana Gates Sturtevant, Illinois
Address.
Miss Helen Barrett Montgomery
Mrs. A. J. Lawrence, Ohio
Address.
Miss Hepzibah Slack, Iowa

SIMPLICITY ITSELF

A Simple, Harmless Remedy

Yet it Cures the Worst Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Harrison, who has studied digestion of stomach thoroughly, says: "Indigestion or dyspepsia is not a disease, but a symptom of some other trouble, that is, it comes from some defect in the digestive organs, no matter whether the organs themselves are at fault or the food which is taken into the stomach is not properly prepared for digestion." Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a combination of digestive and vegetable essences, pure pepsin, papoid and golden seal, and bring to the food pleasant tasting tablets and so fill it into Stuart under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two of the tablets should be taken after meals and about an hour after the meal is thoroughly digested the food in the stomach, digestion complete before it has time to ferment, decay and sour.

The actual experiment one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest three thousand grains of meat, eggs and similar wholesome foods.

It is safe to say, if this wholesome remedy was better known, by people generally, it would be a national blessing, as we are a nation of dyspeptics, and indirectly of all diseases come their origin to imperfect digestion and nutrition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret patent medicine, but a fifty cent package will do more real good in a week compared with fifty dollars worth of patent medicines and a person has the self-satisfaction of knowing just what is putting into his stomach, which he does not know when he takes advertised patent medicines or some of

It is not probable that this season's games in this city will develop many base ball cranks. "The national game" has had its zenith day and is now rapidly on the decline.

Unless the supply of cattle on the hoof be materially increased this year, beef will soon become a rare article of diet among the working people of the United States. There is no longer any question that the rise in price is due to diminishment herds and not to combination among the slaughterers.

A newspaper is just what the name implies—the avenue through which the public gains a knowledge of the events of the day. Every column of a paper is a news column. Even the advertisements are business news. The shrewd merchant realizes the fact and lets the people know through a well worded advertisement what news there is in the way of bargains. A clean cut and to the point advertisement has lots of news to many people every day.

The city of Evansville will bring suit to test the law that requires cities to pay township taxes. The claim is set up that the township has no legal right to collect taxes from cities for township purposes. The case will be watched with much interest by every town and city in the state. Should it transpire that Evansville makes a case every other city in the state will also refuse to pay and perhaps bring suit against the townships to recover back taxes.

The women of Lafayette had editorial charge of the Daily Courier of that city yesterday and issued a twenty-four page edition which was highly creditable. The editorial staff was as follows: Mrs. T. A. Stuart, editor-in-chief; Mrs. W. W. Winnedge, associate editor; Mrs. L. B. Thompson, city editor; Miss Anna Jenners, literary editor; Mrs. A. O. Behm, society editor, and a large corps of assistants. Mrs. H. W. Moore was the business manager. The proceeds of the edition were for the benefit of charity.

Governor McKinley has declared that he will not accept the republican nomination if his party declares in favor of free silver. That will settle him so far as the silver delegates are concerned, and they will be largely in evidence in the next convention. In this connection it may be remembered that ex-Speaker Reed gave a silver lining to his boom a few months ago. General Harrison is expressing no opinion on silver, and this leads to the suspicion that he is preparing to accept that nomination no matter what sort of a platform is framed by the convention.

The definite conclusion of peace between Japan and China ends one of the most decisive wars of modern times. Its battles have been a series of Japanese victories, and the humiliation and defeat of China has been complete and overwhelming. The terms of peace are a heavy blow to the Chinese people, and it will be many years before they can fully recover from their effects. The conditions are exceedingly burdensome, especially the payment of $200,000,000 war indemnity. The cession of Formosa, Port Arthur and the Liao Tung province is objectionable, because it gives a foothold to Japan in the Chinese empire, and practically prohibits further offensive and defensive war operations, for a good many years at least.

Women and Missions.

The convention of the Women's Baptist Missionary Society of the West, which is being held in this city this week, composed as it is of the delegates who are the representatives of their sex in the various states from which they come, impresses upon the mind the potential influence which the women of this nation are today exerting in all those fields of activity which are rolling the world onward toward a higher civilization and evangelization and nearer to that millenium which is promised in the fullness of time

In every work which has for its object the betterment of the race she is a prominent figure and her voice and pen and purse are devoted to this purpose. In every department of life, whether at home or in public, we find her the friend of education, temperance, charity and religion and always ready to lend them the helping hand She stands for right in everything, for raising instead of lowering the standard of morality, and for every movement which is calculated to make mankind happier and the world better. She is in fact the friend of all that is good and the foe of all that is evil, and what is better than all she is coming out and showing her colors and proving her loyalty by acts and deeds.

In no field is her influence in this direction felt more than in the church. She is religion's staunchest friend Without her influence and support the Gospel of Christ would fall far short of being the power for good that it is at present. The cause of missions, which sends the Bible and the missionary into heathen nations, finds in the Christian women its greatest helpers and most grandly is she carrying this work forward. She is the heart and soul of this beneficent movement and when the world is converted to Christ it will be the devoted, self sacrificing women who did so much to bring it about, who will wear the brightest crowns.

Twenty-five years ago the Woman's Foreign mission was only talked of. Our women were wondering if they dare undertake this work, and if they would find recognition in the church, and if so, could they meet the financial obligations that would be incurred. They have succeeded nobly and the coming years will witness grand work done by them. All honor to the missionary women of our nation.

Lack of Good Story Writers.

An immense demand exists for good stories. There seems to be a revival of novel and novelette reading which is remarkable in this hard, realistic age. It may be a reaction from the iron hardnesscities that condemn us only to the real and practical.

However that may be, the demand for good stories is such all supplied. American publishers consign to British writers for their serials. We have few good story writers in America. Those we have have not distinguished themselves lately. There is no way but for American authors to keep on trying till they do strike the right gait.

An editorial notice in Munsey's Magazine utters the universal plaint about the lack of good stories as follows:

"We want stories. That is what we mean—stories, not dialect sketches, nor washed out studies of—forte human nature, nor weak tales of society as misunderstandings, nor 'problem' writing. We want stuff that is full of the rattle and roar of the car lines every inst. It is not what we want, but we do want fiction in which there is a story, action, force—a tale that means something; in short, a story.

Good writing is no reason to claim that whole good stories are as rare as statesmen who are good thinkers of monumental, absorbing stories, in which the "story" is not worth the telling—as audacious, full, suave, and yet thoroughly new and startling. Generally told. That only back cars thing and that is the story it self. That magazine has published for fourteen such stories. It has published them because we have been unable to get better ones. But we know some fine ones are coming on this year, and we are going on with the search with all our might, and shall not stop. After three months with no more stories in Munsey's Magazine unless they seem to us to be worth reading. We realize that a story that will make people yawn will not necessarily give rest to the neighbor, but we feel reason ably sure in assuming that a story of good, strong, human interest will appeal to the great majority of readers.

Acting on this decision we have gone to work to secure such stories. Many in this issue. We want to prove without it because we have some worth putting in.

An Aboriginal Inventor.

One would almost as soon expect a Digger Indian to become a great inventor as that Mr. Granville T. Woods should be one. His case contradicts one of the most firmly established scientific theories—that untutored genius is confined to the white races, and so called civilized ones at that.

Some 20 years ago a boy went to blowing the bellows in a railroad repair shop in Australia. One grandfather was a full blooded Malay. The other grandfather and his two grandmothers were lower yet in the scale of human development, being full blooded Australian aboriginal negroes, those whom we are taught in our geographies to regard as the most inferior known type of humanity. We are left in the dark as to whether the boy had any white blood at all in him, but vanity makes one conclude that he must have had, or he could not have done what he has.

The boy struck his gait when he went into that machine shop. He made himself familiar with every piece of machinery in the shop and paid the superintendent out of his small earnings for private instruction. He came to America and became a railroad engineer. Then he turned his attention to inventing, particularly in the electrical line. He has made many useful electrical inventions, the most important of which is a device for regulating and governing the speed of electric motors. Have we here a negro Tesla or Edison?

The most dazzling scheme of even the nineteenth century is on foot in the freight transportation line. The newly incorporated Interocean Electric Railway company proposes to put coal, grain and other freight through between New York and Chicago in 24 hours at farthest, possibly 12 hours. There is no limit to the speed at which electricity can drive cars except that it must stop short of the point where the car flies to pieces. The railway company named will construct between the two cities an elevated electric railway. Then the trains can travel as fast as they are wanted without running over and killing people or without vexatious obstacles in securing right of way. At present it takes six days for freight cars to cover the route between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard. The time has at length come when electrical power is cheaper than steam. This elevated freight road is only one of the many great enterprises that the next few years will bring forth. In time it is expected to extend this electric freight line to San Francisco. But why stop at freight?

The report of the telephone company shows that of the 800,675 miles of wire operated by it considerably more than a third is underground.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and the medicines that I thought would help me.

"One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of your Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it. I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to be up and walk around, and now I am doing my housework. Many thanks to Mrs. Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life."—MRS. HATTIE MADAUS, 184 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

More evidence in favor of that never-failing female remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A Loss of $40,000,000 ! ! !

Labor saving inventions or discoveries have often been in touch approximately the ground that they take workingmen's bread out of their mouths. Although experience has shown the fallacy of that theory the feeling or fear was natural.

But it is not so much the lack of work as the inability to work that causes poverty and suffering. In England and Wales every year sickness averages ten days of sickness every year, with a total loss of wages for all of about $40,000,000 per year. In this country the loss is much greater. In all countries the prevailing disease is indigestion and dyspepsia and its concomitants such as dizziness, nervousness and other ailments resulting from impure blood a result of dyspepsia.

Nothing can be found more easy and less expensive for this universal and obstinate malady as stated in that Mr. Ed Johnson IN. Virginia street of Sanders, Ohio, says: "Dr. Parker's Head and Stomach remedy called the Shaker Digestive Cordial has improved from health and health multiplied sevenfold to date. Both the above certain, safe and palatable can be purchased for 50 cents per bottle from the local druggists for months of the Sanders, Kidney and Stomach, and would refer to any one in addition to this endorsement and their final interest and benefit to be derived from using Johnson Also have been cured by the Cordial after all other remedies had failed. Their high recommendation for adult as herbalists, for infants and children universally guaranteed whenever there is need."

For description call over take your work from your if you are able to work. Health and strength are the vital considerations.

In order to find whether the Shaker Digestive Cordial is adapted to your case, try a competent bottle. Specified is immediate. For sale by nearly all druggists.

He Was Mixed.

He had not been in a city for a number of years and was not prepared for all the progress that had been made in the world since his last appearance on the scene. When passing one of the grocers of the Union market, he gazed with undisguised expression of satisfaction and pleasure at what he considered a pleasing innovation in city life.

What a hospitable city it was, to be sure, and yet no one seemed to be accepting the courtesy!

"Why, yes, thank you," he said to the man who held out half a dozen oranges.

"You are real kind. I'll take two for myself, being as no one else seems to want any, and three for the old woman at home. What a miserly city is! Drop in on us at the farm some season."

It took the trailer and two policemen to explain the situation to the bewildered visitor.—St. Louis Republic.

Hundred Years Hence.

We've read in old books of calamities dire, Where buildings and bodies in flames would expire,

For they didn't know how to put out a fire, Oh, ever so long ago.

And people who wanted to ride a few blocks Paid "street car" fare to ride in a box That was dragged through the streets at the pace of an ox,

Oh, ever so long ago.

Human beings, they say, never sailed in the air,

Except in balloons let loose at some fair, And they went the things only heaven knows where,

Oh, ever so long ago.

It took six days for a first class ship To make a run days' very easy trip, From an old world back to a New York slip, Oh, ever so long ago.

Most cities were lighted by gas at night, A marvelous thing was electric light. Oh, people were awfully, wondrously bright' Oh, ever so long ago.

For child or for lunch were no days, The children, are told it, can't say, Was considered by many as real good pay, Oh, ever so long ago.

Men of intelligence worked on the streets, While wifey, with basket, collected the sweets Who could buy the most votes held the lawmakers' seats,

Oh, ever so long ago.

The railroads were owned by a few millionaires,

Who doled out the profits according to shares, And whose pockets were fat with the railroad fares,

Oh, ever so long ago.

The working class labored six days out of seven,

And they stood a poor chance for their tickets to heaven

If they had a good time on the holiday given, Oh, ever so long ago.

A Wonderful Story of an Old Lady.

St. Joseph, Mich., May 9, 1894.

Lyon Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.:

I wish to congratulate you in being in possession of such a grand medicine as LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS. I was in very poor health for a long time, could eat no solid food, and scarcely anything else; had no appetite, but a continued distress in my stomach, and was very poor in flesh. Your remedy being recommended by one who had tried them, I got a box of same, and can cheerfully and gladly say, after using them, the distress in my stomach entirely ceased, my appetite increased wonderfully, and I gained in flesh very perceptibly. I am a lady seventy-four years of age, and can say that LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS have given me a new lease on life. I feel grateful toward you and your remedy. It does more than you can do it justice. No words of praise can do it justice.

Gratefully yours,

MRS. CYNTHIA RANSOM.

Accident.

Did you hear about the accident last Monday evening? If you didn't call on Randall Cycle Co., and hear about it, also see the two Bicycles which were in it. It is simply wonderful the strength of a Winton Bicycle frame. A young man riding a wheel faster than a three minute gate collides with a buggy and the double frame of the Winton never clinched, although the front wheel was completely demolished. No wonder the boys are all buying the Winton, she's a winner sure.

The Military Fair—Who Will Be There?

Realizing that it is going to be a great thing; that they are going to give away a piano, a handsome set of furniture and a high grade bicycle; that the representatives of all those wares will make a display there, that the boys are going to carry out the program of entertainment on the stage every night, that there will be something to interest every one, including a dance every evening, and that every one would be there, the management concluded that an unobtrusive, but important element in society—the typewriter girl—should have her share, and that the latest invention in typewriting machinery, a No. 1 Blickensderfer, would be given to the most popular manipulator of the keys on any machine.

When Mr. Dixon Edgerton, the state agent for the "Blickensderfer" saw what a representative assortment of donations and displays were going to be made by the leading business houses of this city, the management soon "persuaded" him to "realize" that it was the right place for the right thing. Who will be there?—The Blickensderfer.
